The Parchment Paper Cookbook
Released in November 2011
Local Author: Brette Sember (Clarence, NY)

A unique cookbook which provides a no fuss, healthy way of cooking. The book was written by a local author which was featured in the November 2011 issue of the Clarence, NY Bee

This cookbook has over a 180 healthy recipes using parchment paper and they really are easy to do and do not require a ton of messing around in the kitchen.

The book has illustrations on how to use the parchment paper to make a pouch. I recommend this book for people looking to learn a new technique but without a lot of difficulty. Also, recommended for folks who are new in the kitchen and learning their way around. You will be amazed at what you can make!

The book has earned high reviews and can be purchased right here at the Clarence Country Store. The author was gratuitous enough to stop by and sign several copies we have for sale.
